Prices Are High for Lots in His Restdence Park-Representative Sales of the Week.

Woodruff Place is now in the most prosperous condition it has been since the plan was made for the residence park. For years it seemed that the venture of James O. Woodruff, who expended a half million dollars on the grounds, would prove a failure, but the depression which followed the first boom has now entirely disappeared, and Woodruff Place property ranks with the best on the real-estate market. In the last year more building has been done in Isaac N. Norwood to Sarah F. Pope, Woodruff than in any other district of its size in Indianapolis. The vacant lots now on the market range in price from $1,700 to $2,500. They are all 80 feet front by 170 feet in depth, and sometimes are purchased by two persons in partnership.

Twenty-five or thirty years ago Woodruff Place was improved with Nicholson pavements, statuary and fountains. The land was first owned by the Rev. Rezin Hammond, who purchased it in the "New Purchase" at Brookville, in July, 1821. The eighty acres that now make such a beautiful dwelling place were heavily wooded with large beech trees. It remained without improvements until purchased by James O. Woodruff, in 1872, who came to Indianapolis in 1870 to construct the first water works for the city. He paid the heirs of Mr. Hammond $240,000 for the eighty acres, and at once expended $250,000 | Christian Endeavor World. more on the grounds.

In those days there were but few houses | made the other day in England by William In the place and it was a favorite picnic K. Vanderbilt. "My life was never destined to be quite happy," he said. "It was laid ground. Additional expenditures that were on lines which I could foresee almost from made after the improvement started are earliest childhood. It has left me with condition. I. N. RICHIE, 108 E. Market. said to have bankrupted Mr. Woodruff. A nothing to hope for, with nothing definite to seek or strive for. Inherited wealth is as few years later the property began to certain death to ambition as cocaine is to deteriorate, the pavements became worn. The lots were sold a few at a time, however, gradually new houses began to dot the woodland and a slow but sure impetus was given to sales and investments. In the last five or six years the place has been repayed with asphalt in all of the drives. Cement sidewalks border every property line and a sewer system has been provided. One of the complaints against the place was damp cellars, but with the new sewerage this complaint vanished.

XXX Among the sales of the week was a lot in Irvington, through the W. J. Friday from Arthur Porter to M. M. a forty-acre farm near Poali, in Orange William. Cline, sr., of the Cline agency, sold 320 acres of land in Wichita county, street and a lot on Cushing street, all in this city.

The W. W. Winston agency sold to a company composed of Indianapolis capitalists the Boneta glass works at Cicero. The purchasers will incorporate this week manufacturing at once.

x x x The Cross & Brown agency sold the rug and carpet factory at Thirteenth street and the canal to T. J. Cotlinger, of Seymour, who will reside with his family in this city. The former owner was William XXX William M. Rosengarten yesterday purchased of Catherine Niehaus a house and streets for $2,500.

The Indiana National Bank yesterday purchased two lots on Ohio street, near New Jersey street, and a property on West Market street, near Missouri street, of Cora B. Hinkle for $7,975.

The Feiber & Reilly agency has recently sold a number of lots in the south and southeast part of the city to laboring men. Lots and properties ranging in price in this district are readily sold for $1,000 to $1,500. The agency reports that properties in that part of the city seldom remain its its hands more than twenty-four hours until they are sold. Purchases are usually made by laboring men who have saved enough to buy a XXX A choice district at the present time for real estate investment is in the north part of the city, in the vicinity of Broadway, Park avenue and Talbott avenue, above Twentieth street. Lots there are selling from $1,500 to $2,000 each. During the last week there has been little demand for other residence property on the North Side, Investors are asking for downtown business property, but options cannot be secured.

D. B. Sullivan has leased ground on Ohio street, near Meridian, and will erect thereon a substantial brick building, 40x120 feet, for the storage and repair of automobiles. The firm will be Sullivan & Merz.

morality. That is too bad. One wonders why Mr. Vanderbilt retains this miserable wealth. He could find as many good uses for it as he has dollars, and that is saying a great deal. He could get rid of it faster than Mr. Carnegie, and that is also saving a great he does not want to: but I will warrant he is making more all the time.

For myself, I am tired of this self-pity so often assumed by the rich. Offer to trade places with them, or even suggest their disposal of this burdensome wealth, and see how speedily and summarily you will be turned down. "Nothing to hope for!" 'Nothing to strive for!" Is money, then, the only object of pursuit? Is a big bank Brown. Mr. Porter also sold to Mr. Brown | account the only end of ambition? There have been rich men who did not think somen almost as wealthy as Mr. Vanderbilt, who have been gloriously happy in making others happy, in building up the world toward higher manliness and a deeper love of God. That is an endless task. No satiety Kansas, to George W. Brown, of this city, is possible in it. That is the most fascinatfor William Bussey, and the former deeded | ing of pursuits.
